

The Republican.

L. W. GRANT, Publisher.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1892.

Senator Call, of Florida, has whipped the fight and will retain his seat.

The United States Supreme Court has declared Boyd, Democrat, entitled to the Governor's chair in Nebraska.

Hon. J. G. Hovey, of St. Johnsbury, Vermont, has been visiting Jacksonville this week. He is very much pleased with this country and thinks it has a great future.

There is serious danger of a split in the Democratic party of Alabama. The Republican party is plucking up hope in consequence and preparing to profit by the folly of Democrats.

Mr. Brock, of the Alliance Herald, is the author of the Warwick letters. He is a vigorous writer, but he is a Republican, and his attacks on the Democratic party come easy to him.

The Alliance in Chilton county made nominations for county officers and took the whole hog. Every man on the ticket was an Alliance man. This sort of action does not promote Democratic harmony.

The Third party is being organized in North Carolina and Georgia. In Georgia Ellington will be nominated for Governor and Tom Watson will be regarded as the leader in the State. C. C. Post, a carpet-bagger, and perhaps a Republican, from up North, is the active organizer of the party that will put the negro on top again in Georgia. What fools white men can be sometimes.

In Cleburne county the Executive Committee met last Saturday and fixed May 7th for the best primaries and May 15th for the date of the county convention. The proceedings were harmonious and all the ground-work was laid to preserve the Democratic organization in that county. The qualification for voters at the primaries, as fixed by the State Executive Committee, was adopted by the County Executive Committee.

Gov. Jones answers fully all charges against his private character as fast as they are made and answers them satisfactorily, and then invites the fullest investigation of all his life both public and private. His reply to the charges of the Alliance Herald of last week as to some old debts is open, manly, direct. The Herald will have a hard time proving that Tom Jones is anything but a thoroughly honest and honorable man.

Hon. John F. Burns, of Dallas county, writes asking us to announce through THE REPUBLICAN, to the people of Calhoun that he is a candidate for Congress, and would like to have their support as a second choice man, if the candidate from their own county should not secure the nomination. John is a genial clever gentleman and he will be given a fair chance with the Calhoun delegation, if it ever has to abandon the candidate from its own county—a most improbable event.

The State of the Case in Butler.

In the last State Convention Butler county was solid for Kolb.

It was regarded in this canvass as the most certain county in the State for Kolb.

Kolb had fifteen out of the sixteen members of the County Executive Committee.

That Committee fixed the representation to which each beat should be entitled in the county convention, and ordered the election of delegates in the beats at only five days notice. It beat Madison all hollow on "snap judgment."

It laid down all the rules for the holding of the primaries and refused to allow any prorate. It thought it had a dead sure thing for Kolb.

Gov. Jones went into the county for four days and spoke to the farmers and captured the county. Kolb also spoke every day in the county and at one box the two were to meet, but Kolb threw up the appointment and failed to meet the Governor. This hurt him.

Gov. Jones got fifty-seven delegates and Kolb got fifty-two. The primaries were perfectly fair and held under the rules of a Kolb committee, yet the Kolb men held and would not take their own medicine. They held a side show convention and selected a ticket to the State Convention. This is the state of the case in Butler. Will good Democrats in Calhoun justify the acts of the bolters. We think not.

SPICY.

Kolb and Denson.

A special correspondent of the daily press, last week, had to say of Kolb's speech, at Greenville, in Butler county:

"In a general review of the campaign in Jefferson, Capt. Kolb said that the reason why Col. W. H. Denson, of Etowah, opposed him on the stump was merely a personal grievance. He said that during the Montgomery Exposition, before the campaign opened in Jefferson, Col. Denson met Col. Sumter Lee, of Birmingham, at the Exposition grounds, and that Col. Denson said:

"Yes, I have made up my mind to support Kolb."

That Col. Denson went on to say: "Sumter, you are right about it. Kolb is a good man, true Democrat and a fine fellow. He represents right principles in this contest, and I would be for him myself if the damn scamp hadn't gone up in my district and ruined my chances for Congress."

Col. Denson was at once telegraphed to as to the truth of this, and the following is his characteristic reply: GADSDEN, Jan. 30.—As usual Kolb lied. I was not at the Montgomery exposition. Never had any such conversation. One truth he tells when he said he was a d— scamp. Publish this.

W. H. DENSON.

THAT CARRIAGE BILL.

Mr. Haygood said Mr. Kolb had no Authority to Refer to Him.

Mr. W. E. Haygood, the well known transfer man of this city, called at the Advertiser office yesterday and called attention to the report in the letter of the Advertiser's special correspondent from Greenville, which was as follows: "It was reported here last night by gentlemen who heard Captain Kolb at Maunington, that he stated that Governor Jones had never paid the bill for the hack in which he rode when he was inaugurated, and said if they did not believe it they could write to Mr. W. E. Haygood, the transfer man at Montgomery and find out the facts. In his speech last night the Governor said there was not a cent of truth in the statement, and said he would denounce it in plainer terms than that if it was repeated. He said on the occasion of his inaugural he rode in a hack tendered to him free of charge, by his life long and political friend, Mr. William Trimble, of Montgomery. As to other hacks used by the Senate and House Committees in the inaugural procession, they were engaged by members of the Committee by authority of the Legislature, and the Governor had no more to do with that than a private citizen of Butler county."

In reply thereto Mr. Haygood requested the publication of the following card over his signature:

A CARD.
Editor Advertiser:
Captain Kolb had no authority or right to refer to me about the above matter. Governor Jones' statement is correct. He did not use one of my hacks or engage any one from me for any one else. The hacks were engaged by Mr. S. D. Bloch, of Camden, Senator from Wilcox, Chairman of the Inauguration Committee. He secured the passage of a bill through the Senate for the payment of my bill for the hacks, but it failed in the House, because Mr. Willis Brewer, on the Committee, pigeon-holed it, and refused to report it to the House. I expect to get the next General Assembly to pay it. I hold Governor Jones entirely blameless in the matter.
W. E. HAYGOOD.

BULLOCK'S EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The Instructions of the State Executive Committee Are Ignored.

UNION SPRINGS, Jan. 30.—Pursuant to the call of Chairman Bethune the County Executive Committee convened here today. The supporters of Jones and Kolb have been at work for sometime. The Jones men wanted a primary, the Kolb men a convention. The majority of the committee were Kolb men, and therefore took action to protect Kolb from the ballots of the masses by declaring for a convention to be held on the 3rd of March.

The wrangle at the meeting resembled very much that too often seen in conventions, and occupied nearly two hours. It was a fight to the finish.

The leader of the Kolb men moved to have the convention on a basis determined by the vote of 1888, disregarding the instruction of the State Executive Committee, and the motion passed by a good majority.

The Jones men who were in the minority, attempted to submit a minority protest, but were promptly ruled out of order by the Chairman, as was the case on several other points.

The arbitrary and partisan action of the Kolb men on the committee has provoked great dissatisfaction, and it is believed that it will cause Kolb to lose votes in this county. The Jones men are now determined to carry the county for the Governor. Kolb would have stood no show in a primary election. His men knew it. A convention will give him a fighting chance as the delegates to the County Convention are unequally distributed among the several beats, so far as the white voters are concerned.

It is pretty well conceded that the State Convention will have to decide a contest from Bullock. It is probable that the minority members of the County Executive Committee will take steps to send up a delegation selected in accordance with the rules laid down by the State Committee.

The action of the Bullock County Committee is a confession that Kolb cannot stand before the fire of straight ballots, but must rely on the machinery of a convention whose delegates are supposed to voice the people's views.

It was left with the convention to decide on the manner of electing county officers.

COMMITTEE ADDRESS

TO THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY OF ALABAMA.

The Rules and Regulations Adopted by the Committee Plainly Set Out—Democrats are Invited to Uphold Democratic Principles and Make Any Sacrifices for Harmony.

Rooms of the Democratic Executive Committee, MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 2, 1892.

To The Democrats of Alabama: Your State Executive Committee, at a meeting held in Montgomery on the 23rd of this month, called a convention of the Democrats of Alabama to meet in the City of Montgomery, on Wednesday the 8th day of June, 1892, at 12 o'clock, noon, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney-General, Auditor, State Treasurer, Superintendent of Education, one Chief Justice and four Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, and a Commissioner of Agriculture, and also for the purpose of selecting a State Executive Committee and twenty-two delegates to the National Convention of the Democratic Party, and for such other purposes as may seem to the convention for the interest of the Democratic party.

The basis of representation adopted by the several counties is one delegate for every 300 votes cast for the Democratic candidate for Governor in 1890, and one for any fraction in excess of 150 votes. Upon that basis the several counties of the State will be entitled to representation in such convention as follows:

These delegates are to be selected either by primary election County Convention or by mass meetings as the several Executives Committees of the respective counties shall determine.

Not less than thirty days notice of all County Conventions, primary elections and mass meetings is required to be given in all counties which had not called such conventions or ordered such primaries before the 25th of this month.

By a resolution adopted by your committee, the right to vote and participate in beat meetings for the purpose of selecting delegates to the County Conventions or in mass meetings and primaries for the selection of delegates to the State Convention is confined to those who voted the Democratic ticket at the last State and Federal elections; to those who, having failed to vote at said election, or either of them, have heretofore habitually voted that ticket and intend to support it in the ensuing elections and to those who have become voters since the last election and those who will become voters by the next election, and intend to vote the Democratic ticket. Where conventions are held for the selection of such delegates, each beat of the County must be given representation in proportion to its Democratic strength, but every beat shall be entitled to at least one delegate in such Convention.

Where delegates are selected by a convention, they are required to be elected by a majority. Where selected by a primary, those receiving a plurality shall be the delegates. The power to instruct delegates is declared to exist only in those who elected them, the county convention, where they are selected in that manner, and the Democratic voters who voted the primaries when that mode of election is adopted.

The regulations adopted by your Committee are intended to secure the following results, to no one of which can any good Democrat object:

First—That none but Democrats shall participate in the selection of delegates to Democratic Conventions. Second—That full notice shall be given of the time for holding all conventions and primaries, so that all Democrats may be informed and have an opportunity of participating in the selection of delegates.

Third—That the delegates when elected shall be the representatives of a majority of the Democrats of the County, they shall represent; that each voter shall have the same rights and the same powers in the nomination of the candidates of his party without regard to the beat or locality in which he may live as every other voter and thus the fundamental principles of Democracy be upheld and the rule of the majority be maintained.

These regulations should command the cordial support of all good Democrats. No one should want any but Democrats to participate in our Conventions and primaries. No one should desire that any meeting or election should be held until after full and ample notice of the time and place of holding the same, so that every Democrat may be informed of these things and have an opportunity of participating in such meetings and elections, and it would be in violation of all our party has ever taught to adopt a plan that would give to those representing a minority of the Democrats whom they claim to represent, the power to name the candidates of our party.

The fourth regulation adopted by your committee with reference to the number of votes necessary to elect delegates and the authority of those delegates when elected is but the declaration of truths that have always been and must always be recognized where men believe in a government of the people. These delegates are but the agents of those who send them and should be the choice of a majority. The power to dictate or control their action exists only in those who appoint them; the power to instruct exists only in those who have the power to appoint, in the people where they are appointed by means of a primary, in the convention, which represents the sovereignty of the people, where a convention appoints them. It is a self-evident truth that where the appointing power gives no instruction, the agent is authorized and required to exercise his own best judgment and discretion as to how he shall discharge the duties imposed upon him.

By another resolution adopted by your Committee, conventions for the nomination of a candidate for Chancellor for each Chancery Division in the State, and also conventions for the nomination of candidates for Judge in each Judicial Circuit in the State, except where there is a Circuit Executive Committee for the Circuit, are called to meet in Montgomery on the same day as the State Convention. The County Committees of the several counties will provide for election of delegates to such conventions. In any Circuit where there may be a Circuit Executive Committee, the time and place of holding its convention will be fixed by such Committee. This Committee is not informed of the existence of any such Committee in any but the Seventh Circuit. If there is any in any of the other circuits, then the chairman of such committee is requested to communicate such fact to the chairman of this committee.

This is an important year for our party. The prospects of our party in the Union were never brighter. If we are but true to ourselves, true to the great principles which our party has always taught, we will surely gain possession of all departments of the Federal Government. When this great end is attained, and only then can our people hope to be relieved of the burdens under which they have so long suffered; then and only then can we get rid of the iniquitous class legislation which has so oppressed and impoverished us, all, except the favored few. The hope of accomplishing this and so much desired, should urge us to extraordinary efforts and should determine us to sacrifice everything but honor for the preservation of harmony among Democrats. We owe it to ourselves and to our posterity that these bright prospects shall not be blighted by dissension and discord in our ranks, and the people of Alabama, who have, through so many weary years, looked forward with wishful eyes to that bright day, the dawn of which we can almost see, will not tolerate that its brightest shall be obscured and lost by bickerings and dissension among us.

Chairman.

THEY AGREE ON A BILL.

AND IT IS INTRODUCED BY MR. BANKHEAD.

Provides for Supplying the Place of Bank Circulation Surrendered—The Bill is Full.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The Democratic members of the House who are members of the Alliance, but repudiate all sympathy with the big nine, composing the Peoples' party, have had a consultation, to which all Democratic members who sympathize with the movement to curtail circulation of legal-tender currency were invited. The object of the consultation was, if possible, to agree upon a plan that was sure to secure Democratic harmony, and the enactment of a measure of relief that would be satisfactory to the party and the country at large. There was a good attendance of non-Alliance members from various parts of the country. Capt. Bankhead, among others, was present. In the course of the evening he addressed the meeting and presented as a basis for action his bill introduced on the 18th of January. The main features of the measure were published in The Advertiser of the 19th inst., but in view of the action taken at the meeting under consideration, it is well enough to give the bill in full. It is as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that whenever the circulation of any National Bank, or any portion thereof, shall be surrendered the Secretary of the Treasury shall thereupon prepare an equivalent amount of legal-tender treasury notes of the denominations now provided by law for National bank notes. They shall be a legal tender for all debts, public or private, and shall be paid out by the Treasurer of the United States in accordance with the appropriations made by Congress, or in satisfaction of such demands against the Government as Congress may direct, and may be redeemed in coin as legal-tender notes now are. The coin now held in the Treasury for redemption of legal tenders shall also be applied to the redemption of notes herein provided for.

Section 2. That from and after the passage of this act no import duty shall be levied or collected upon salt, lumber, nails, cotton ties, bagging for cotton, binding twine, farming implements, wool, tin, glass, crockery, cotton and woolen goods of every description, and no import duty in excess of twenty per centum ad valorem shall be levied or collected upon any products manufactured from iron.

Section 3. That in order to meet and cover any deficit in the necessary revenues of the government which may arise from and follow the passage of this act, the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and directed to prepare legal tender treasury notes of like denominations to those now issued in the sum of millions, and to pay the same to the creditors of the United States in compliance with appropriations made by Congress, and for such other purposes as Congress, may direct.

Section 4. That the treasury notes herein provided for shall be a legal tender for the payment of all debts, public and private, and for the redemption thereof it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury to cause to be coined a sufficient number of standard silver dollars out of the bullion in the treasury which, when coined, shall be deposited in the treasury to be used in such redemption.

After a thorough discussion of the bill, it was unanimously agreed by the Alliance members to endorse it, and to present it as one of the measures desired by that organization. There is no inflation in the bill, but a plan to prevent contraction when National Bank notes are withdrawn. It has no fiat money feature about it, for the notes provided for are redeemable in coin, either gold or silver, at the option of the Government. The second section provides for a reduction of tax burdens by the placing of many indispensable articles of necessity upon the free list, and if this should result in a loss of revenue, that might cause failure to meet obligations, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized by the third section to issue Treasury notes sufficient to meet the demands of the Government, and also what might be needed to take the place of retired National Bank notes. These notes are receivable for all dues, public or private.

The conference requested Mr. Bankhead to select such committee as he deemed best to go with him before the Ways and Means Committee in advocacy of the measures, and with assurance on their part, that they favored the bill.

Co-operation Among Farmers.

The farmers' convention, which recently met in Augusta, adopted the following resolutions: "Resolved, That to carry out the recommendations of this convention to reduce the cotton acreage for the year 1892, 20 per cent., we earnestly request all the farmers' papers of the cotton States to publish the resolutions of this meeting, urging all cotton producers to accept the resolutions and faithfully carry them out, and to urge them to further try to increase the production of grain, grasses, meat and everything in general for the support of man and beast.

REQUEST FOR CO-OPERATION.

"Resolved, further, That we request the State Alliance to urge upon sub-Alliance and State Granges through subordinate Granges, the necessity for the immediate consideration of and action on this important question. That we request all city, county and agricultural organizations through the cotton States to call county conventions at once to consider and decide on the question of reduction of the cotton acreage, and at said convention to elect two delegates to a general Southern Cotton convention, which will convene at Montgomery, Ala., Wednesday, March 9, 1892, to consider the question affecting the interests of planters, and decide on such general and uniform legislation in the various States as is best for further relief. All cotton exchanges and bodies of cotton factors are requested to have representation in the said convention by the election of two delegates to represent each organization.

THE NEWS TO BE SCATTERED.

"Resolved, That the Augusta cotton exchange, through its proper committee, send a copy of these resolutions to the various exchanges and cotton associations, and that a general committee on memorials to legislatures, also, send out copies of the said resolutions to the various journals and agricultural organizations throughout the South at as early a date as possible.

"Resolved, That each county convention be requested to take a list of subscribers who are willing to bind themselves to the reduction and make a report of said agreement for reduction through their delegates to the general convention in March."

The following resolution was also adopted: "Recognizing the fact that the home production of farm feed crops is retarded by the fact that such crops have, when home grown, little commercial value and no standing as money crops, "Resolved, That the convention urge upon commission men and all others handling and consuming hay, grain and meats and the like, to encourage the growing of these crops recognizing them as money crops and making a market for them by educating the farmers as to the best methods of growing and putting them into a marketable shape."

The Defalcation in the Agricultural Department.

For some days of last week rumors are rife that one of the clerks in the office of the Commissioner of Agriculture of this State had defaulted for a large sum and fled the State. Later it was ascertained that the young man had not left Montgomery and had settled the amount supposed to be short. In the Advertiser of Tuesday we find the following interview with Commissioner Lane on the subject:

Commissioner Lane said: There is no truth whatever in the statement that Mr. Walker has left Montgomery. Sometime last month Mr. Walker got on a drunken spree, while I was absent, but upon my return and Walker's recovery, he stated that while on this spree he had spent a good deal of his money, and possibly some of the funds of the Department, which he stated he would make good as soon as the amount could be ascertained. He made no concealment, and the facts were reported to the Governor, who ordered Examiner Reeves to investigate the matter. Mr. Walker has been here all the time, and went over the books with the Examiner.

"The Examiner found the books in some confusion. Walker had charged himself with a good many things for which he was not liable, and had not charged some for which he was just such a state of things one would expect from the entries of a drunken man. The whole amount was $1,154.82, which he promptly paid over as soon as ascertained.

"Walker, when sober, is the last man to be guilty of any impropriety of this sort and the whole thing was due to a drunken and gambling spree. Of course, I appointed a successor in his place at once."

Silas Davis Klinger died at the residence of his parents in this place Sunday morning last, after a lingering illness. He was about twenty-two years of age, of quick intelligence, gentle and lovable disposition that won friends. The family have the sincere sympathy of this community.

The "Old Folks" concert will take place at the College hall Monday night 15th. Admission for old and young 25 cents. The program will be a good one, consisting of an old fashioned husky bee, music and "old time tunes" as well as a play. The last concert of this character here was most highly enjoyed and this one promises to be even better. There will be a large attendance.

We desire to express our heartfelt gratitude to the people of Jacksonville, for their many and repeated acts of kindness, and unselfish friendship during the prolonged illness and death of our dear son.

That God, in his mercy may bless them and spare them like affliction, that their family circles may remain unbroken, that their hearthstones may not be left desolate is the prayer of the sorrowing yet grateful hearts of
R. D. & M. E. KLINGER.

Why Don't Calhoun Have Teacher's Institutes?

To the thinking teacher the question spontaneously arises why there are no Institutes in Calhoun County? There is hardly another county in the State that has so many intelligent teachers as ours and I make the assertion that there is no other that has as many teachers and have no institutes. Sec. 995 of the school law of Alabama says: "It shall be the duty of the board of education in each county to organize and maintain therein teacher's institutes, one for teachers who are white persons, and one for teachers who are colored persons to be held at such times and places as the board may prescribe." Sec. 996 makes it the duty of the County Superintendent to be president of such institutes and the members of the board of education the vice-presidents. The teachers holding licenses shall be the members of the institutes organized for his race." Sec. 997 requires that three such meetings be held each year, and that every teacher must attend at least one. The writer, in conversation a few days since with several of the leading teachers of this county, asked the question why we did not have institutes as other counties are having, and no one present could tell. We were of the same opinion that nothing would be more beneficial to the teacher than to hold institutes. Three or four months since I received a letter from a teacher of this county asking me if I would take part in an institute, and said he was working up one. I told him I would do all I could to help it on. I have never heard anything from the teacher since, and suppose if he held his institute it must have been a secret affair. I think a majority of the leading teachers of this county are anxious to have institutes, and I appeal to the board of education to answer the above question: "Why no Institutes in Calhoun?"

ARE YOU ONE OF US!

It seems almost like throwing the money away to pay tailors $40.00 an $50.00 for what you can get of us for $25 or $35. They rail and rant against ready made clothes—but it's the pricking of the consciousness of excellence. We've gone in to win the trade of a class of gentlemen who are particular—but who are ready to give merit its dues. Have a look at our line of fine SUITS and OVERCOATS. If you've looked the best tailor's stock over you have seen the same grade of goods—with a third more at least, "tacked on" to the cost. The cheap tailors and the rest of the ready made clothiers haven't a suggestion of them even. Our's are in all the genteel effects. Effects that you don't find outside of a dozen mills if you look the world over for them. We put these fine fabrics right into OUR OWN TAILOR SHOPS and when they come out there's nothing choicer to be had. We are willing to stake our reputation on the perfection of the fit, the elegance and thoroughness of the finish and make. Try them on; it won't cost anything but time; and we are sure you'll give us the endorsement we deserve. We never go "off half cocked." When we make a claim we plant it in rich soil of facts, and it don't take long for it to bring forth fruit.
Our efforts are telling on our trade. It's growing amazingly.

L. W. GRANT, Publisher.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1892.

A NEW AND STARTLING ISSUE.

Mr. P. G. Bowman, of Jefferson, speaking for Mr. Kolb in Marengo county, has introduced a new and startling issue in our State politics. It is no less than the assertion of the doctrine that the whole policy by which the white people of the black belt have maintained white supremacy shall be abandoned.

Mr. Bowman is a new-comer to Alabama. He surely does not know that the abandonment of such policy means black domination in counties like Dallas and Lowndes and that such domination means wholesale plunder of white tax-payers, prostration of the public credit, destruction of land values, throwing of places of public trust, galling subordination of a proud race to an inferior race, and social, moral and material rot to the fairest part of Alabama. He does not know that once that proud and noble people were kept in such subordination by the power of federal bayonets, and that their pride condition moved the hearts of white men in the hills to pity, and that tongues, touched with unwonted eloquence, thrilled the spirits of our people as the story of their enforced degradation was recounted, and that "white supremacy" in all Alabama became an inspiring battle cry, and that even federal bayonets were powerless before the irresistible sweep of white men moving to the rescue of white men.

He certainly does not know these things, or else he is the veriest madman who ever addressed a popular assemblage of Alabamians.

Mr. Bowman hails from Birmingham, in the hill country, but he does not represent the white men of the hills. Speaking for the white men of Calhoun, we say to Mr. Bowman and all who hope to profit by his advocacy that the cause of white supremacy is no less dear to them now than it was in the days when white men staked their lives in the assertion of it, and that no time of no change of circumstance, no political passion, no ambition of any man will alter the fact that the cause of white supremacy is no less dear to them now than it was in the days when white men staked their lives in the assertion of it, and that no time of no change of circumstance, no political passion, no ambition of any man will alter the fact that the cause of white supremacy is no less dear to them now than it was in the days when white men staked their lives in the assertion of it.

It is hard to conceive that Mr. Bowman and his associates can be so blind as to appeal to white men on any such lines. It may be the appeal is addressed to negroes, based on the contingency of independent political action in this State. In that event the motive of his speech is clear, but its policy is none the less sheer madness. A combination of white independents and negro hordes would stand no more show before the virtuous wrath of the great Democratic masses of the State than have similar combinations under Republican colors.

Mr. Bowman and his school of politicians march not only straight to defeat but straight to dishonor on any such lines of fight.

Prof. Abernethy, principal of the Anniston public schools, writes a card to say that he will not be a candidate for any office. He has been mentioned through the press as a possible congressional candidate, but he is too wise, at his time of life, to be drawn into the uncertain quicksands of political life. He is a young man full of promise and the coming years are freighted with honors for him. It would be well for all men to as readily understand that the first step to honor and preferment is to "learn to labor and to wait."

McEachery the regular Democratic nominee for Governor in Louisiana has, in view of the grave situation in Louisiana, made a proposition to the Foster-Alliance combine to have all candidates come down and have a new State Convention on a basis of compromise calculated to heal Democratic dissension; but the offer has been met in a spirit that does not promise well for Democratic harmony in that State. If matters go on now the Republican party will carry Louisiana.

Mr. Alonzo Irwin, of Dallas county, is a candidate for Congress. He is the gentleman who was appointed a delegate to the Conference of February 22nd by the District Alliance, recently held at Talladega. This makes the third candidate for Congress from Dallas; two being Alliance men.

Oxford and Anniston have formed large and enthusiastic Jones clubs.

The Gadsden Times says that representatives of the primary Alliances of that county met in Gadsden and agreed to vote in the primary, called by the County Democratic Committee, for delegates for Governor, but resolved to not participate in the primary vote for county officers. This means, if it means anything, that they are unwilling to submit the ticket lately nominated by them, with Judge Moragne (a Republican) at the head of it, to the Democrats of Etowah, but prefer to antagonize it to the ticket the Democrats will nominate at the primaries and elect it by the help of the white and negro Republicans of Etowah. This action clearly arrais the Alliances of Etowah against the Democratic party and places them in copartnership with the Republican party. How many Alliances of Etowah expected, when they first joined the order, to be thus led out of the Democratic party?

Yet, if this course is persisted in, that will be the inevitable result. Many good men in Etowah, following the lead of artful men, will find themselves in the shameful position of going in cahoot with negroes to beat white Democrats who have fought side by side with them in other days to resist negro supremacy in Alabama. In future days, when the mists of prejudice shall have been dispelled and the people of the south shall have escaped from the strange spell thrown over them by Western Republicans and Southern adventurers, posing now as the deliverers of the farming and industrial classes, the full horror and shame of such an unnatural combination of white and black men to beat white men will become painfully plain to them and they will bitterly curse the day they ever consented to be a party to it. It will be a reproach to them for all time.

The Advertiser is in receipt of a communication from I. L. Brock, of this city, asserting that the statement made by The Jacksonville Republican and copied into The Advertiser to the effect that he is a Republican, is untrue. The card contains such strictures upon this paper as well as The Republican that to print it would be a violation of rules that have been observed in this office for years. The Advertiser thinks that he should send his communications on this subject to the paper that made the charge. The Advertiser simply gives space to his denial; he and The Republican can controvert the facts at issue as much as they choose.—Montgomery Advertiser.

The REPUBLICAN has heard nothing from Mr. Brock, but has heard more than once that he is a Republican. When the newspapers published the fact that he was the author of the Warwick letters, the editor of the REPUBLICAN asked a reputable citizen of Cherokee county, who was on a visit to Jacksonville, if it was true that he (Brock) was a Republican, and the answer was affirmative, with the added information that Mr. Brock's former beat in Cherokee county was badly out of line with the Democracy and had given almost a solid support to Butler for Congress over Forester. Noting the fact that he was the author of the Warwick letters, the REPUBLICAN added its best information as to his politics. That is all we know about Mr. Brock. If he is not a Republican we shall be glad to hear it. If he is a good Democrat, we shall be glad to know it.

Since the above was put in type we have received the following letter from Mr. Brock:

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Feb. 10, 92.
ED. REPUBLICAN:—In your issue of 6th inst., the following editorial paragraph appeared:

"Mr. Brock, of the Alliance Herald, is the author of the Warwick letters. He is a vigorous writer, but he is a Republican, and his attacks on the Democratic party come easy to him."

Permit me to say in reply to the above that I never in my life voted a Republican ticket, affiliated with the Republican party or advocated the doctrines of the party. I have never known you personally, but judging from the reputation you sustain, I would take you to be an honorable man, and am led to believe you are laboring under a misapprehension as regards my political proclivities.

Concerning the "attacks on the Democratic party," I do not care to reply. My letters have been published and upon them I am willing to stand or fall.

I am averse to the mud-slinging habit that so many of our newspapers and writers have fallen into of late. I would like to say, however, that criticism of a public official should not be construed as an attack upon the party to which he may belong.

Trusting that you will accord me the publication of this short letter, I am, Yours very respectfully,
I. L. BROCK.

Monday night the miners of Coal Creek, Tenn., fired upon the troops who were guarding the convicts. The troops returned the fire and a lively battle lasted for twenty minutes. No one was hurt, but if such amusement is continued it may result in a bloody encounter in which many lives will be lost.

Petitions have been sent to the Governor asking the appointment of Judge Leroy F. Box to fill the vacancy on the Supreme Court bench caused by the death of Judge Crompton. Judge Box would grace the position.

The Chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee of Georgia has called his committee together for the purpose of taking steps to fight the third party in that State.

Since the announcement of Mr. G. L. Graham for governor was put in type we learn from The Seima Journal that the mind of Mr. Graham has given way and that friends are taking steps to have his case properly treated. In this view of the case the card is more pathetic than laughable and the REPUBLICAN suppresses its comments upon it. There is nothing sadder in this world than a ruined intellect and nothing more profoundly touches the sympathetic heart. The REPUBLICAN sincerely hopes that the unfortunate man may be speedily restored to health and full enjoyment of all the powers of his mind.

When Louisiana Democrats get to the point of shedding each other's blood over a question as to whether the vote of the negro shall be counted as cast, it is high time the Democrats of Alabama, who have been contemplating a division of the white people, should begin to look about them and count the cost of white division. It means the surrender of the fairest portion of Alabama to black domination and the spoliation of the white people of that section by corrupt local governments. What man who is true to his race can for a moment tolerate the thought?

Rev. S. M. Adams, President of the State Alliance, in a published card through the Birmingham Age-Herald, has formally withdrawn from the race for Congress. A publication was made from rumor in the Age-Herald that he had withdrawn, but this was denied subsequently. Now comes his withdrawal over his own signature. He was probably discouraged over the very small vote he received in Jefferson, which has 26 delegates. Jim Hawkins carried that county by a large majority.

Take the advice of a friend and raise enough to feed man and beast this year. The cotton acreage in this section promises to be as large as ever the coming season. If it is the same way all over the cotton belt the staple will not pay cost of production. Each prudent man ought to determine that, let others do as they may, he will raise enough to eat on the farm. This is the safe course.

Monday the 15th the Marengo county beat meetings are held, which will decide whether the county will go for Jones or Kolb. Kolb carried the county in the last canvass for Governor, but the best information from there indicates that Jones will carry it this time.

The Anniston papers announce the fact that Capt. J. H. Savage is a candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture. He would make a good one.

CARD.

Under existing circumstances, it is perhaps a duty due to others, as well as to myself, to state that I am not, and have not been an applicant for political preferment. Of course, I am heartily grateful for the expressed willingness of friends to do me honor, but I already hold as important and honorable a position as is in the power of man to bestow; and, if I succeed in performing its duties satisfactorily and well, I shall feel that I have accomplished a great work.

Respectfully,
JOHN W. ABERCROMBIE.
Anniston Ala., Feb. 6th, 1892.

FOR GOVERNOR.

Another Candidate in the Field.

Mr. G. L. Graham, of Dallas county, editor of the "Alabama Mirror," the official organ of the Farmers' Alliance of the Fourth Congressional District, is out in the following card through the Birmingham Age-Herald, as a candidate for Governor:

ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the Democratic Voters of Alabama.
At the solicitation of many friends in the old Fourth and in the new Fourth Congressional districts, and in the counties of Lowndes, Butler, Coneah, Monroe, Clarke, Choctaw, Wadsworth, Mobile, Baldwin, Escambia, Henry, Barbour, Bullock, Crenshaw, Selma, Montgomery, Elmore, Tallapoosa, Barbour, Calhoun, Talladega, Shelby, Chilton, Bibb, Autauga and Jefferson, I have consented to become a candidate for governor of Alabama subject to the action of the democratic primaries or county conventions. I will meet his excellency, Hon. Thomas G. Jones, or Hon. Reuben F. Kolb at any one point in each county named that both they or either of them may name, or I will meet either of their lieutenants, sergeants or corporals, from "governor down to constable" at any point in Alabama between noon, the 15th of February and 1st of August, for a calm, dignified, conservative and fair discussion of the constitution and by-laws of the Farmers' Alliance, the state convict system, the public school system and the present abominable system of working the public roads of Alabama, which imposes the whole burden of opening and keeping up our public and private or neighborhood roads upon the poor white man and the farm laborers, while property escapes taxation for that purpose.

I will also discuss the action of the billion dollar congress—the present pension and homestead laws, land grants by congress, the status of the southern states towards the federal government as at present constituted, free trade, protection, etc.

Very respectfully,
G. L. GRAHAM,
Editor of the Alabama Mirror.

What Low Cotton Did.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., February 6.—The farmers in this section are desperate over the low price of cotton. Farmer Shall, of Coffee county, learning last Tuesday that cotton was still declining, set his crop on fire and then committed suicide by jumping over a bluff. John Williams, a farmer of Limestone, took his seed cotton to Athens to sell, but because the price offered was low he drove to the center of the bridge crossing Elk river and dumped his load overboard. The staple is lower here today than for forty-seven years past.

FROM PIEDMONT.

PIEDMONT, ALA., Feb. 4th 92.
ED. REPUBLICAN:—I see by the daily papers that there is about to be a split in the grand old Democratic party, and that too by the farmer and working men of our State; and the fact makes my blood run cold.

Here and now is the historic age. The social atmosphere is surcharged with the electricity of the coming storm. In the issue now presented all for which the pioneers of freedom have fought and its martyrs have suffered converges and culminates—last and crowning stage of the battle for human rights. What nobler, grander purpose could animate the lover of his kind? What loftier impulse could stir the heart, inspire the brain, nerve the hand, or touch as with a live coal from the altar of liberty the lips than the resolve to do and dare in such a cause.

Young man, entering on the world's stage of action, full of high hopes and generous aspirations and bent on a career of usefulness, which will enable you in dying to leave the world better and brighter for your having lived in it, can you withhold your aid from this movement?

You have, no doubt, often felt your heart thrilled with emotion on reading of the trials and triumphs of the patriots of bygone times. You, in imagination, have walked shoeless and ragged and half starved through the snow with the patriot army of the revolution. You have listened spell-bound to the eloquence of Patrick Henry and stood in spirit among the signers of the declaration of Independence. Some of you, no doubt, have sprung at the call of our leaders in bygone days. How we have listened to our fathers as they would relate to us their trials and difficulties of the late war and the cause of their leaving home and family. "Ah, had I lived in such times," you have said to yourself, "I too would have been ready to strive, to suffer, to die for freedom; then indeed the intensity of purpose, the joy of conflict and accomplishment of the grand scope of the aims to be achieved would have made life worth living, death worth dying."

Look around you. Seek not inspiration from the past, save so far as its traditions and examples may serve to nurture the firmness of moral fibre, the quenchless ardor and enthusiasm for freedom, by which alone the progress of humanity is attained. If the cry from our Democratic leaders all over our State for unity in our party will find nothing to rouse you to action, if the appeals of our press for our party strikes no responsive chord in your heart; if the supposed requirements of your position, the desire to stand well with society or the dread of conventional opinion holds you aloof, then rest assured that in no age and under no circumstances would you have risked means or life or limb in the cause of the weak against the oppressor.

We hear men say we can't get relief through the old party. How do you know? Have you ever tried the Democratic party? Please tell us, have we ever had the chance to try it? We have had at no time a majority in both houses of Congress to respond to our demands? I am an Allanceman, and have been for several years, and wherever the Alliance has affiliated with the Democrats we have had laws passed for our relief. It is true that the Republican party has been in power ever since the war and that party alone is to blame for the oppressed condition of the farmer-laborer today.

They took advantage of the necessities of the government at a moment when its very life was trembling in the balance and obtained bonds at 50 cents on the dollar, and for years they have

Bribed Congress!
Bribed Presidents!
Bought Secretaries!
Bought Cabinets!
Bulldozed Courts!
Hired Newspapers!
To plunder the Treasury!
To rob the people!
To make rich men richer!
Poor men poorer!
To create millionaires!
To fill poor houses with paupers!
To bankrupt merchants and manufacturers!
To depopulate the producers!
To subvert the liberty of the people!

Let us stick to the Democratic party and not run after a third party and allow the return of the Republican party to power in our State. Let its name and memories become a by word among future generations. Let its ill-gotten gains become as loathsome as the 30 pieces of silver which Judas received for betraying our Savior. Let us, young and old, stay inside of the grand old Democratic party, which will save us if we will only let her.

ALLIANCE DEMOCRAT.

Great enthusiasm was manifested throughout the entire meeting. The following officers were elected:
John M. Caldwell, president.
M. B. Welborne, first vice-president.
Benjamin Micou, second vice-president.
J. H. Nunnelle, secretary.
Benjamin Micou, treasurer.

M. B. Welborne, one of Barbour's gallant sons, was appointed a committee of one to notify the Governor of the formation of the club.

Judge Whitlock's Sudden Death.

GADSDEN, ALA., Feb. 5.—Gadsden was shocked tonight to hear of the sudden death of a townsman, Judge W. L. Whitlock, which occurred at 6 o'clock. He had been quite sick for several weeks, but was some months before he died he remarked he was feeling better. The nurse left the room for a few moments and on returning saw the Judge fall back with a gasp and instantly expire. Heart failure was the immediate cause of death.

Judge Whitlock was a respected Judge of the Twelfth circuit in 1883, and served for twelve years until 1889, with honor to himself, and his constituency. He was a lawyer of great ability and his death has caused profound sympathy. He was a Mason in good standing. He leaves five children, three daughters and two sons, all of whom live in Gadsden except John Whitlock who lives in Seattle, Wash. The deceased was 66 years old.

ESCAPED TAXES.

Mr. J. H. Marion's Report to the County Commissioners.

ANNISTON, ALA., Feb. 8, 1892.

To the Court of County Commissioners of Calhoun county—Gentlemen: I have the honor herewith to submit, in accordance with my contract, to you a list of property in the city of Anniston that has escaped assessment for State and county purposes for the years 1888, 1889, 1890 and 1891. Some of this property has escaped every year; but much of it has escaped some years and been assessed others.

I have gone carefully and patiently over the tax books and assessment list for the years named and think that there are as few errors as from the nature of the work could be expected; for I find that property owners in very many cases failed to give any certain description of their property so that it could be located. In all such cases, I have attempted by inquiries amongst those who were likely to know, to find out the exact location of such property in order to ascertain definitely what property was assessed and what property was not assessed. I have met with success in most cases, but not in all.

In reference to the ownership, I have exhausted every method of finding out the owners by inquiry and cross references. I have, I believe, located most of the owners, yet as many bonds for title have been given that were never recorded, and as the property has never been given in for taxation, it is probable that I have failed to locate the owner properly in some cases.

I have been conservative in estimating values, and have not placed the values near so high as owners have done when putting their property on the market. Improved property has been assessed low, and I do not think that any reasonable objection can be raised to my valuations.

That my work will meet with the approval of the commissioners is my only desire, and to that end, I have given the matter conscientious and hard work.

Very truly, JAS. H. MARION

The following figures give the amounts of the valuations on the property that has escaped taxation for the years named:

1888	$303,457
1889	321,740
1890	285,963
1891	545,045
Total	$1,456,205

The taxes on the above valuations will amount to about $27,000

GREAT ENTERTAINMENT.

A Jones Club of 300 Members.

ANNISTON, Feb. 6.—About 300 leading Democrats of the city met in the City Court room tonight and organized a Jones Club.

The wearer was disagreeable but this did not prevent the admirers of the gallant Governor from turning out and organizing for the purpose of sending him back to the gubernatorial chair.

Great enthusiasm was manifested throughout the entire meeting. The following officers were elected:

BALLOT AGAINST BALLOT.

AND RIFLE AGAINST RIFLE THE CRY IN LOUISIANA.

Both Sides are Armed and Determined—Horrible State of Affairs in the Louisiana Democracy—Papers on Both Sides Advocate Bloodshed at the Polls if Intimidation is Attempted.

NEW ORLEANS, February 6.—The arrival of about 500 rifles and 2,900 rounds of ammunition, consigned to Colonel Crandall, the chairman of the democratic state committee, on the steamship El Paso from New York, was noted yesterday morning by the New Delta, accompanied by strong editorial remarks, concluding as follows:

"A Winchester in the hands of a hireling to oppose a Winchester in the hands of a free man! Let every crack of lottery rifle wake as an answering report of the Anti-Lottery Gun."

"If the hoodlums of New Orleans appear on the streets of the city armed with weapons placed in their hands by this lottery committee, sweep them from the face of the earth."

"If the streets of New Orleans are to be reddened with blood, let it not be alone."

"If wholesale murder has been resolved upon by the lottery let the people resolve upon wholesale executions."

In reply the Evening States says: "Mr. Foster, of St. Mary, the candidate of the anti for governor, was the first man who raised the cry of rifles in this contest."

Every $500 bill, meaning every lottery vote, he said in substance, was to be met with a $25 rifle. In view of these facts, argues the States, it is not astonishing that the democratic committee has taken the necessary steps to protect freedom of opinion and of ballot.

It adds: "If they had failed to do so they would not be fit to hold the leadership of the party of American citizens. Ballot against ballot, rifle against rifle; and by memories of men who fought and bled for our constitution, it shall be rifles against fraud and rascality."

Chairman Crandall, in an interview on the subject, admitted that the rifles had been received, and said there was no secret about it.

"We are determined," said he, "to have an honest election and a fair count, and propose to show that we are not going to be bulldozed by the manner in which the governor is handling his militia in shifting them about from place to place." He said that they expected further shipments of arms, a 3d ammunition.

It is expected that Governor Nichols will seize the rifles now here before man y days.

JUDGE CLOPTON DEAD.

Associate Justice of Alabama's Supreme Court Gone.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Feb. 5.—Hon. Davis Clopton, who has been Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Alabama for a number of years, died of pneumonia at his residence this morning. He had been ill a few days only.

Judge Clopton was appointed to the Supreme Bench by Gov. O'Neil in October, 1884, and was nominated and elected in 1886.

The Danger Line.

We have reached the danger line. A few steps further and the party will be sundered in Alabama and a fight like the readjuster division in Virginia will be on the good people of this State.

It is time to reflect a moment. All good men who vote the Democratic ticket are willing that a majority of their fellows shall rule. This must be true. Let us do it in Barbour, Dale, Henry, Russell and Bullock at all the counties. It is not difficult to tell which side has a majority in a County Convention. That can be easily done and when it is done the fight must be closed.

Wa in the primaries is allowable but when the convention doors are opened the majority must rule and no good man will disturb its action.

Then is a time to ground arms.—E. J. FALA TID ES.

ARE YOU A MASON?

Rev. Mr. Magill, Rector of the Episcopal Church at Peru, Illinois, was asked the question: "Are you a Mason?" The following is his answer.

I am of a band
Who will faithfully stand,
In the bonds of affection and love;
I have knuckled at the door
Once wretched and poor
And there for admission I stood.

By the aid of a friend,
Who assistance did lend,
I succeeded an entrance to gain;
Was received at the West,
By command from the East,
But not without feeling some pain.

Here my conscience was taught,
With a moral code fraught,
With sentiments holy and true;
To heaven I traveled,
To have it unravelled,
What Hiram intended to do.

Very soon to the East,
I made known my request,
And light by command did attend;
When I felt I was free,
In due form revealed,
A Master, a Brother and Friend.

Thus far I have stated,
And simply related
What happened when I was made free;
But I've passed since then,
Was raised up again,
To a sublime and ancient degree.

Then onward I marched,
That I might be arched,
And seek for treasures long lost;
When lo! a bright flame,
From the midst of which came
A voice which my ears did accost.

Through the veils I then went,
And succeeded at length
The "Sanctum Sanctorum" to find;
By the signal I gained,
And quickly obtained
Employment which suited my mind.

Having thus far arrived,
I further could not proceed,
Among valiant knights to appear;
And as Pilgrim and Knight
I stood ready to fight
Nor any Saracen did I fear.

For the widow distressed
There's a chord in my breast;
For the helpless and orphan I feel;
And my sword I would draw
To maintain
Which the duties of masons reveal.

Thus have I revealed,
Let wisely consider ye,
What the "Free and Accepted" well know.
I am one of a band
Who will faithfully stand
As a brother, wherever I go.

The recently elected United States Senator of Georgia, General John B. Gordon, says:

Mr. A. K. Hawkes—Dear Sir: The pantoscopic glasses you furnished me some time since give excellent satisfaction. I have tested them by use, and must say they are unequalled in clearness and brilliancy by any that I have ever worn.

Respectfully,
JOHN B. GORDON,
Ex-Governor of State of Georgia.

EROS!

Of course you have heard of Eros!

BOOK STORE

IN ANNISTON,

What have you called at Eros' store? There are no cramped notions here. Eros' is a store of liberal ideas in trading. It's the Book and Stationery Store in the full sense of the word, and of which any city or town is proud to be in a first class book store. Eros' has the standard Periodicals and Weekly papers. School books and supplies which have to sell on their merit and low prices. Fine correspondence paper, ever goods ought to be in a first class book store. If you can't come yourself a letter that tells nearly what you want will command the best attention and the goods will cost the same as if personally bought.

COMMERCIAL AND

LAW STATIONERY,
Architect's and Engineer's materials. You can confidently call or write for anything in the above line. What ever goods ought to be in a first class book store and Stationery store are here, and the prices are right.

The Republican.

L. W. GRANT, Publisher.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1892.

Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Micon, of Aniston, attended the masquerade party at the Tredgar Inn, at this place, Friday night, the 12th inst.

All the Alliance candidates for county office in Marengo were beaten at the primary. They got in the Kolb boat and were swamped.

Oxford has formed an enthusiastic Tom Jones club to aid in the re-election of the present able Governor of that name. It is time that Jacksonville, Piedmont, Alexandria, and other precincts should fall into line.

The Canvass.

Marengo county went for Jones and sends a solid delegation of sixteen for him. This county went for Kolb in the last State convention.

Clarke county sends three delegates for Kolb and three for Jones. This county went five for Kolb and two for Jones in the last State convention.

Fayette county split and had two conventions, one sending delegates for Kolb and one sending delegates for Jones. The cause of the split was a claim of the Jones men that Republicans voted at the primaries for Kolb, contrary to the regulations of the committee.

The appointment last week of Gen'l J. W. Burke of Jacksonville to the position of Receiver of the Chattanooga Southern R. R. will be good news to his friends all over Alabama. The appointment while quite a compliment to the ability of Gen'l Burke is a safe one for all parties involved. Gen'l Burke has had much experience in the management of railroads in the South. He has several times acted as President of roads in this state and he has also filled the position of receiver. He is besides a good lawyer, and Judge Bruce could not possibly have made a better selection. Gen'l Burke is in every way fitted to bring order out of chaos and set the Chattanooga Southern on a firm basis.

To the Teacher Again.

"Teacher" in the REPUBLICAN of last week demands the reason why we have no regularly organized association and quotes from our public school laws to show that there is legal requirement for such association and that the responsibility in the matter rests with our county Board of Education. There was a time when the teachers of this county were organized, but like many other institutions of its kind it became a name and nothing more and at least its name is forgotten. Now every teacher in the county knows the importance that attaches to this matter and so does each member of our Board of Education. Then we have no association, not because we are ignorant of its necessity or of the law requiring it, nor because we are not interested in the matter, but because we are all culpably negligent. The writer of the article referred to says that some months ago he received a letter from a teacher asking his pledge of support in the enterprise now in question, and that nothing more has been heard from him. The present writer sent that letter and one like it to every prominent teacher in the county. A few answers prompt and encouraging came—others came after awhile, and from some of those addressed nothing has been heard. But encouraged in view of the success that seemed to be guaranteed, we agreed with Supt. Lane to let our first meeting be early in the spring in response to a call that he should issue at the instance of those pledged for the success of the enterprise. These are the names of those thus pledged:

C. B. Gibson, Jacksonville.
J. L. Dodson, Oxford.
J. M. Stephenson, Oxford.
W. Y. Titcomb, Anniston.
J. D. Duckett, Piedmont.
H. T. Persons, Four Mile.
T. A. Anderson, White Plains.
Jeff Sox, Choccolocco.
J. L. Bynum, Weavers.
W. H. McKee, Jacksonville.
Miss Anderson, " "
Miss Haley, " "
Mrs. Woodward, " "
J. T. Ury, " "

Now when the call for our first meeting comes, let every earnest teacher in the county respond by active service in the effort to bring about the order of things that should be. Let us throw off our lethargy. We are the custodians of the educational interests of a great and growing county. Let it no longer be said to our shame that there is a Calhoun Bar Association, a Calhoun Medical Association, but no Calhoun Teachers' Association.

Respectfully,
J. T. URY.

To the Public of Calhoun County.

I have had occasion to visit most every part of this County within the last 4 years and I will say in praise of the present Hon. Board of County Commissioners that I find the public roads in better condition by two hundred per cent than I ever saw them in Calhoun County, also I find more bridges and better bridges than I ever saw in the County. All this is the result of competent Commissioners. Respectfully,
B. H. DENMAN.

NOT A THIRD PARTY MAN.

An Admirable Letter From Hon. S. S. Scott, of Russell County.

The following letter from Hon. S. S. Scott, of Russell County, to Mr. M. J. Jones, of Marvin, asking his views of Third partyism, will be read with special interest:

CHIEF, Ala., January 11, 1892.
Hon. M. J. Jones—My Dear Sir: You ask me what I think of a Third party. The question has been put to me more than once of late by good men in different parts of Southeast Alabama. Among these I may mention the popular and clever editor of the Ozark Star. My views upon this point have always been fixed and the same. I will give you substantially, though more at length the answer, which I have heretofore invariably given to others.

"I am a Democrat. I have been a Democrat for the last half century. During that time the strength of my Democracy has been displayed in my every political word and act. It will not now be questioned by any one except a formalist or bigot—one who can only see evil in every change of party policy, or every addition to party principle, however much in harmony with the leading tenets of party faith. According to my idea, true Democracy is both conservative and progressive. It is at once anxious to save, and anxious to improve. While it looks proudly back to what is acknowledged to be good in its past, it looks longingly forward to what is suggestive of good in its future. It does not suffer its regard for things that are old to prevent it from discovering merit in things that are new. It never forgets that the world moves, and with such motion conditions change. It sees that year after year new political issues are presented for settlement, and new governmental problems for solution. It knows that the claims of these for recognition cannot be silenced by the mere dictum of any man or set of men, but that such claims must be met with a liberal spirit of forbearance and toleration, and be fairly discussed and investigated. This, ay, this, in my judgment, is true Democracy—this is the Democracy which was taught by Jefferson and Jackson—and this, be it deliberately said, is the Democracy of the masses of the people of this country today; and to it the leaders of the party are called upon to subscribe, and in accord with it to act. In this way the unity of the party can be preserved.

Upon this unity depends, at the South, the permanence of white supremacy. Upon the permanence of white supremacy at the South depends, among other things, the success of the Alliance movement for reform. This unity, then, is dear to the Southern members of that organization, both as Democrats and Alliance men—in a word, as patriots. In the place of seeking to divide, they are seeking to strengthen and solidify the party, of which they, with their sympathizers, make up nearly the whole rank and file. If any division should come, it must and ought to be charged, not to them, but to the politicians, who are striving to control the party in the undemocratic way of subjecting the will of the majority to that of the minority, for the undemocratic purpose of building up the few at the expense of the many. But I do not seriously apprehend division. I believe that the Alliance will eventually secure the relief sought, by and through that great party which, as before said, is the party of progress and reform as well as conservatism.

It will be readily perceived from what I have said that I am no Third party man, and I will add, that I will be no more a Third party man, should Democratic conventions ignore the Ocala demands, than I am now. Indeed, I doubt the wisdom of an incorporation of these demands into Democratic platforms. The first thing to be considered now by the Democracy is success. Until that success is attained, relief in no respect can be expected for the masses of the people. In Democratic platforms, consequently, only those planks should be admitted, which are necessary to squarely and sharply make up its issues with its great antagonist, the Republican party. Additional planks would bring about complications, and excite dissensions in the party, which would weaken its chances of victory. For this reason, and it will be observed that the position is based upon expediency alone, while endorsing the objects sought to be accomplished by the Ocala demands, I do not, as before suggested, care to see them made parts of Democratic platforms. And besides, the thing is unnecessary, as the principle of these demands is in harmony with the very central idea of true Democracy—"the greatest good to the greatest number of the people," and is substantially embraced in its three cardinal doctrines—"equal and exact justice to all men, of whatever state or persuasion, religious or political;" "economy in the public expense that labor may be lightly burdened;" and encouragement to agriculture and its handmaiden, commerce and manufactures." The motto of the Alliance, it is true, is measures and not men; but it is well advised that the way to reach these measures is through broad-minded and patriotic statesmen, and not through planks in platforms, however well fashioned and prepared to meet its wishes, bestrode by demagogues or favorites of Wall street methods.

Permit me to remark, in conclusion, that if a Third Party is organized in this country, I do not believe that its ranks will be swelled to any great extent by accessions from the sturdy old farmers at the South. Such action on their part would be a total reversal of the record heretofore made by them. The farmers of the South are Democrats true and tried, unconquered and unconquerable. They have fought for the principles of that party fearlessly, persistently and vigorously, sustained always by an unwavering faith in their truth and ultimate triumph. They propose, in my judgment, to die thus fighting, and it will be found in the end that they will never by their action in life leave behind them in death a stain upon the Democratic blade which they have so gloriously wielded, but that when the end shall come, they will return it to its scabbard, as bright and unsullied as when they first drew it at the bidding of liberty and truth.

Very truly your friend,
S. S. SCOTT.

TRIES HIS HAND AT A RIGHT NEW GAME.

And Says "A Whole Paddle in Mighty Few Words"—He Makes Some Close Points on Various and Sundry Subjects—Short Sermons, Political Tips and General Farm Notes.

I maintain all along that single shots hit the hardest, and short stump speeches I ever heard was made by that old friend of mine when he was elected Justice of the Peace. He had whipped a hard fight and won a close race and when a committee of seventeen pulled him out and called for a speech he came back at the crowd as follows:

"Fellowcitizens: For six long and weary weeks I have been lickin your boots, and now by Ginn you can lick mine."

It takes a powerful smart man to say a whole paddle in a few words, but I am willing to play my hand that way for once.

SHORT SERMONS.

If a man's religion ain't worth fightin for it ain't worth pickin up in the big road.

A man that plays the fiddle ain't quite as bad as the man that plays the devil.

Thomas Jefferson use to say that religion and politics wouldn't mix up together very well, and Thomas was always right.

A sheepskin ain't always big enough to hide the wolf's but it takes some men a long time to git the lesson.

The meanest men in this world go through cold sober, with a constant weather eye on the 11th Commandment: "Don't Git Caught."

If there is anything in religion to cry about, I simply haven't got any as yet.

When the political pot stops over and the campaign goes up to the fight in pitch it is a good time of year to talk religion to a man on the other side.

There are some men in this world so rotten mean till the devil would throw up his job if he could to keep from bein caught in their company.

My religion is short and sweet and simple. Put your trust in the good Lord, and keep your liver movin.

A man that can plow a frisky horse in a new ground full of stumps all day and not let any cuss words slip has got genuine religion and plenty of it.

A man may ride a poor horse, and borrow his neighbor's paper and let his wife tote the wood and water, and still have religion, but I have got some mighty serious doubts about it.

The best man in this world to let alone is one of these flightin Methodist preachers.

Whenever a preacher kicks out of the traces and runs to politics you can generally put him down as either a natural born fool or a powerful sorry preacher.

Sometimes I look back down the line at the tight places I have come through and the close calls I have had, and then there is nothin that fills the bill like a few stanzas of "Amazing Grace."

"A devil ain't losin no time nor givin himself any worment about the man that plays cards and drinks whisky round the week, and then goes around wearin the yoke and be-a-r-in the cross on Sunday. The spider and the fly are both in the parlor."

If religion made me as solemnly and sorry lookin as some folks I know, I reckon I would have to take my chances with the great unwashed.

As long as you stick to the "Old Ship" you can count on three square meals a day three hundred and sixty-five days in the year.

I believe in salvation by grace, as a free gift for nothin, and not of works lest any man might blow and brag about it.

GENERAL FARM NOTES.

Many a man can write big about the farmers and the farm, when at the same time he wouldn't know a bull-tongue scoter from a buzzard-wing sweep, or a stack of hay from a hornet's nest.

You can't plant campaign literature and raise a good crop of corn. Don't try.

In order to make a good farm hand a man must rest some, and sleep a right smart, and eat a whole paddle. Money makes the mare go, but it can't make a good grub go and stay when the machinery runs down and the bottom drops out of your stomach.

The way to be a farmer from Farmersville is to pull off your coat and roll up your sleeves and spit in your hands and pitch in.

About the most easiest and quickest way to git there is to hit the grit and pull out and go.

What you can't git for push and pluck wouldn't be worth havin if you got it.

The old farm will always keep peace in your mind and plenty in the pantry if you only treat her kind and gentle and tickle her bosom right frequent.

Blessed is the man that don't want much, and knows right where to go and git it.

Letter is a happy home, and peace and quiet therewith, than a few years of hurry and worry and highflyin, and then the gable end of a misspent life.

Briars and berries grow together, and if you git the berries you will have to go through the briars.

Take a good average agricultural editor and drop him down on a well regulated farm, and he would be like a blind calf in high oats, or a bobtail dog at a log walkin. The man that knows the woods is the man to blaze the way.

RUFUS SANDERS.

LAMENTABLE.

This is the Condition of Our "City of the Dead."

When the stranger visits Jacksonville her patriotic citizens take pride in telling him of her marvelous mineral wealth, point out the salubrity of her climate, and refer with becoming modesty to the culture and genial hospitality of her people, but they never ask him to take a stroll or drive out to the cemetery. This one place they do not care to have him see.

And why not? Because this resting place of our departed loved ones is neglected—sadly neglected.

The graves of soldiers who died for us can hardly be found.

The valiant Pelham left our midst and in his final fatal charge fell fighting for our homes. No simple monument stands over his remains here to mark the spot where they lie and attest the love, veneration and gratitude of his fellow-citizens.

Not only our great cities boast of their beautiful and well kept cemeteries, but also our towns and villages, and it will be well for us to fall in line with the Memorial Associations of the land and set aside one day in the year in which to decorate the soldiers' graves, thereby keeping alive their memory.

In the meantime, pride in our town and a lingering love for our lost ones should make us give our sympathy and support to the good ladies who are making earnest, unselfish efforts to have our cemetery put in a more creditable condition.

Those who care to contribute anything towards a fund to be used in defraying necessary expenses can do so by leaving it at Mayor Stevenson's office.

All young and old, from all parts of the town and vicinity, who are willing to give a day's labor are requested to meet at the cemetery on next Monday, the 22nd inst at 8:30 o'clock.

Ye Olde Folkes Concert.

On Monday evening last the chapel of the State Normal School was filled with spectators eager to witness the rendition of the excellent program prepared for "Ye Olde Folkes Concert."

The concert was given under the auspices of Mrs. Laddie Bowling for the benefit of the college.

The program, in itself, was unique and the selections were of such a nature as to delight not only "ye olde folkes" but also the lads and lassies as well.

The costumes of ye men and women singers were truly gentle reminders of the costumes of the happy auto-bellum days.

At 8 o'clock the curtains were drawn and for two solid hours laughter and mirth held full sway in the audience.

After the musical portion of the program had been disposed of the curtains were closed and the scene changed to that of a barn, with boxes and barrels filled with corn, and all other requisites necessary to the successful performance of "Ye Olde Fashioned Husking Bee."

The scene presented was highly representative of an ideal (1) corn husking, and from the continuous applause it is very evident that the farce was well received by the participants.

The characters in the play were well chosen, and the entire performance was a success from beginning to finish.

The concert given at College Hall by Mrs. Bowling on Monday night was a great success. At least $40 was cleared. This lady deserves a vote of thanks for her efforts in behalf of the college. In fact, since the foundation of the Normal School the ladies connected with it, have worked nobly, and unselfishly for its good. Miss Montgomery, Mrs. Woodward, Miss Foulche, Miss McCombs, Miss Anderson and Mrs. Bowling have all contributed no little to its improvement.

We lift our hat to the ladies of our college.

ARE YOU ONE OF US!

It seems almost like throwing the money away to pay tailors $40.00 on $50.00 for what you can get of us for $25 or $35. They rail and rant against ready made clothes—but it's the pricking of the consciousness of excellence. We've gone in to win the trade of a class of gentlemen who are particular—but who are ready to give merit its dues. Have a look at our line of fine SUITS and OVERCOATS. If you've looked the best tailor's stock over you have seen the same grade of goods—with a third more at least, "tacked on" to the cost. The cheap tailors and the rest of the ready made clothiers haven't a suggestion of them even. Our's are in all the genteel effects. Effects that you don't find outside of a dozen mills if you look the world over for them. We put these fine fabrics right into OUR OWN TAILOR SHOPS and when they come out there's nothing choicer to be had. We are willing to stake our reputation on the perfection of the fit, the elegance and thoroughness of the finish and make. Try them on; It won't cost anything but time; and we are sure you'll give us the endorsement we deserve. We never go "off half cocked." When we make a claim we plant it in rich soil of facts, and it don't take long for it to bring forth fruit. Our efforts are telling on our trade. It's growing amazingly.

Such is our Success!

Respectfully Yours,

A Wonderful Invention.

J. P. Snapp, of Philadelphia, is in the city with a process by which he is enabled to take photographs without the use of sunlight, by night as well as by day.

During the first few days of the coming week the gentleman can be found above Crook's Drugstore, and all who are interested in the rapid advancement of science and also those who wish good photographs would do well to call.

His prices are reasonable and his work shows that he certainly understands his business.

The recently elected United States Senator of Georgia, General John B. Gordon, says:

MASQUERADE PARTY.

The most enjoyable event of the season was the "Masquerade Party" at the "Iron Queen" Friday evening, given by the young ladies in honor of the young men of Jacksonville.

Guests began to assemble at eight o'clock, and soon the hotel was transformed into a scene of merriment, where Gypsy and Indian maidens, demure little house maids and stately queens could be seen with Clowns, Dudes and Buffalo Bills.

With jest and laughter the time sped quickly away, and soon masks were removed and guests invited to the dining room where supper awaited them. The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent, and all too soon the merry party disbanded.

Let me here, in behalf of the young ladies of Jacksonville, thank Mrs. J. H. Privett and Mrs. S. D. G. Brothers for their kindness in helping them so successfully.

Them married couples invited to assist the young ladies in receiving were: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Privett, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. G. Brothers, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Crook, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Gasser.

The costumes of those in mask were well studied and did credit to the talent of both young men and maidens.

"Starlight" was charmingly represented by Miss Addie Hammond. Miss Undine Lane was a veritable "Queen of Hearts." Miss Hannah Crook, as "Music" proved very attractive. Miss Fannie Forney looked very stately and beautiful as "All is not Gold that Glitters." Miss Bessie Woodward, representing Porter, Martin & Co., was pronounced the sweetest young lady present; candy figuring extensively in her costume. Miss Jessie Forney as a "Swiss Peasant Girl" was very coquettish looking. The costume of Miss Will Woodward, "Nothing but Leaves" was much admired. A pretty little "Gypsy" was Miss Nannie Nisbet, while Miss Louise Lane was a dainty "Valetheine." The costume of Miss Sallie Hoke as Winter, and Miss Georgia Hoke as the Indian maiden Minnehaha, were among the prettiest present. Miss Mame Crow and Miss Fatina Coker both brilliantly and beautifully represented "Night." Miss Emma Eason looked picturesquely pretty as a "Shepherdess." The costume pronounced the most ingenious was that worn by Mrs. Laddie Bowlin, called "Guess Who?"

Very petite and graceful looking Miss Lizzie Mattison as "Queen of Spades." Misses Willie Privett, of Oxford, looked quite pretty and cute in the role of "Little House-maid." The most cunning costume was that of Miss Hughie Walker, as "Mama's Pet." Jek's millinery establishment was handsomely displayed in the costume of Miss Lizzie Arnold. Misses Ida Arnold and Sallie Marion were two tastefully arrayed "Flower Girls." "Diana, goddess of the chase was there, with her quiver of arrows, and looked quite pretty in the person of Miss Hattie Weems. The "JACKSONVILLE REPUBLICAN" found a fair representative in the person of Miss Fannie Crow. She received many compliments. Miss Reta Sagee as "Pocahontas," and Miss Sofia Sagee as "Snowflake" were highly complimented. The neat and industrious "Housewife" was well represented by Miss Lizzie Brennan, Mr. Macon Stevenson was a perfect representation of a "Montgomery Brewery." Mr. Joseph Arnold was a very graceful and handsome "Indian Chief." Quite an attractive and polite "Jew" was Mr. J. F. Crook. Messrs. Mac Lane and Chas. Arnold were two very popular and entertaining "Dromedaries" they carried out their part to perfection. The "Infallible George Washington" was there in the person of Mr. Will Hammond. He was as genial as the original "George" himself.

Mr. William Driskoll as "Beau Brummel" and Mr. Walter Dean as a "Dude of the 19th Century," were both quite charming. Mr. Earnest Whisenand proved to be a very pleasant "Buffalo Bill." Mr. W. T. Skelton looked very handsome in his role of a "Citizen of the time of Henry I." Mr. Forney Williams was quite attractive as a "Sailor Boy."

The costumes of Mr. Jas. Crow, as King Cotton, and Mr. George Rowan as a "Prince" were among the best. Mr. W. H. McKee was well distinguished in the costume of a "Leper."

Guests not in mask were Mr. and Mrs. Micou, Miss Sadie Williams, Col. Ellis, Miss Ella Abernathy, Messrs Montgomery, Ide, Ury, Stewart, Henderson, Skelton, Lane Dean and Ryan.

We regret that the names of those who failed to register, have not been obtained.

Sheriff Sale.

The Republican.

L. W. GRANT, Publisher.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1902.

President L. L. Polk was foremost among the third party men at St. Louis.

Livingston was generally snubbed in the St. Louis Convention. He was too much of a Democrat to suit them.

The Democratic Executive Committee of this Judicial Circuit will meet in Talladega, Monday, Feb. 20th 1902.

The New York State Convention appointed a solid delegation to the National Democratic Convention in the interest of David B. Hill for President.

Macune, Polk and Terrell have at last shown their hands. How long will Southern democratic farmers continue to follow their lead?

Mr. Kolb has been charging in Tuscaloosa county that he was beaten in Marengo by negro votes. A dispatch to Gov. Jones from Marengo states that not a single negro vote was cast in any beat which went for Jones.

Gov. Jones challenged Capt. Kolb to a joint debate in Tuscaloosa county, but Kolb declined. The Governor had learned that Kolb had said that he (Jones) was afraid to meet him (Kolb) on the stump, and hence the challenge.

Dallas county having three candidates of her own for Congress, Messrs Cecil Browne, of Talladega, and L. W. Grant, of Calhoun, declined to contest for a delegation in that county. So, Tuesday next the vote in that county for Congress will be only for Robbins, Burns and Irwin delegates.

A correspondent pays a merited tribute in this issue to the good people of who inhabit the two pretty Nances Creek and Rabbit Town valleys in this county. No better or more self-sustaining farmers can be found in the State, and, we may add, no better Democrats live in this Republic.

Owing to the inclement weather, the work on the cemetery has been twice postponed. The ladies concerned in this commendable effort to beautify our cemetery ask us to say that the first clear and dry Monday will be the day on which all our people, young and old, should meet at that hallowed spot. It may be the next Monday or the Monday after that.

Tuscaloosa county holds her primary election today (Saturday). Both Gov. Jones and Capt. Kolb have been speaking in that county this week. The county went solid for Kolb in the last State Convention. The indications are that it will go solid for Jones this time.

Dallas county holds her primary election next Tuesday. In that county there will be a prorate for Governor, and Jones will carry a majority of the delegates.

National Lecturer Willets of the National Farmers' Alliance offered a resolution in the St. Louis Feb. 22nd Convention demanding that Congress pass the sub-treasury bill, but it was defeated by a large majority. Subsequently a resolution was offered demanding the passage of the free silver coinage bill, and to this was offered an amendment including the sub-treasury bill, but it was again defeated. The sub-treasury does not appear to be as popular as it was a year ago.

When Mr. Moses of Georgia, an Alliance Congressman, announced in the St. Louis Convention that while he was an Allianced man he was still a Democrat, he was hoisted and jeered and insulted, and was barely permitted to proceed with his speech. Livingston was charged by a delegate with seeking to turn the Alliance men of Georgia over to the Democratic party and this raised such a howl that Livingston had to get up and deny it. Oh how these Western agitators love Southern Democrats!

During the Conference at St. Louis there was another burying of the "woody shirt" scene. Polk spoke for the Gray and Vandiver, of North Dakota, for the Blue. At every mention of a third party the wildest enthusiasm prevailed, while the United States flag was waved frantically. Powell of Indiana sang "United we stand." Amid the excitement a negro came upon the stage and shook hands with the whites. Some one wrapped the flag around the negro, a Northerner and a Southerner, and the scene ended.

The city of Talladega has sold twenty thousand of its bonds in New York at par. This speaks well for the credit of the city and the confidence of the public in its growth. Talladega is one of the towns that has not had what has become to be known as a "boom," but its growth has been steady and real estate values have been good, yet reasonable. It has altogether been better for the town that it has had no wild speculation in real estate which comes with a boom. The city is greatly favored in beauty of location, culture of its people and rich surroundings in mineral and agricultural wealth, and will steadily forge its way to the front among the foremost towns of the State.

The St. Louis Conference remanded the question of Women Suffrage to the States and sat down upon the prohibition plank.

Ignatius Donnelly, the greatest political crank of the century, wrote the preamble to the St. Louis platform agreed upon by the Conference on the 22nd of February. He is supposed to all parties and been the topic.

There was no split in the Marengo convention. The sixteen delegates were given to Jones and Harmony prevailed. After the convention, the Jones men and Kolb men had a regular love feast and patriotic speeches were made. So ought Democrats to act everywhere.

Mr. Kolb has said in a speech at Tuscaloosa that Judge Richardson had said that "he" (Kolb) was snubbed out of the nomination at the last State Convention. Judge Richardson writes a letter to say that he never said any such thing.

Giving Mr. Kolb Fayette county, the delegates to the State Convention stand as follows: Jones 46, Kolb 25. So far Kolb has gained 10 delegates in counties which before went for Jones, and Jones has gained 26 delegates in counties which before went for Kolb.

Now is a good time for Allianced men in Calhoun to speak out. Do you go with the "bevy crowd," or do you abide with your own party? We know what the answer will be. We stay with those with whom we have passed through great tribulation. No more princely gifts for northern soldiers, while many of our Confederate heroes are on charity.

Ignatius Donnelly, one of the ring leaders in the St. Louis Conference the 22nd inst., called for the purpose of considering the question of independent political action by the Ocala Convention, said that the conference proposed to change Geography by wiping out Mason and Dixons line and to change politics by wiping out the color line. The Conference subsequently effectually wiped out the color line by electing a Virginia negro to be assistant Secretary. Parson Adams of this State objected and was met with cries of "shame," "sit down" and so forth.

Congressman Livingston recently introduced a resolution in the House declaring that Congress sympathized with the masses of the people and would enact laws to relieve them. At the St. Louis Conference of the 22nd, this resolution was made all sorts of fun of. President Polk in his address declared that neither of the old parties would help the people and nothing could be expected of this Congress. Polk seems to know more about what Congress will do than Congress does itself. Polk is a third party man. Livingston is not. Hence Livingston has been ridiculed and sat down upon in the Conference.

Ben. Guinn, the versatile young editor of the Oxford Night Hawk, is a son of Mr. J. M. K. Guinn who edits the Oxford Voice. Ben is for Jones, and his father is for Kolb. Ben belongs to the Jones club in Oxford, which outnumbers the Kolb club in that vicinity about ten to one. The old gentleman does not quarrel with his boy on this account, but says he is proud of him. He says he is doing God's service in supporting Kolb, but in the same breath says that the children of this world are wiser in their day than the children of light; which, while it is a sly dig at Ben, is a complete give away of Kolb's chances.

Harmony has been restored in the Democratic party of Lee county. The County Executive Committee have had a meeting and called in the appointment for a convention based on five delegates for each beat, irrespective of the number of Democrats they contained, and made a call for a primary election for delegates to the State Convention. The candidate for Governor who gets the most votes will get the delegates. The call for a convention based on five delegates to each beat gave dissatisfaction. Under that rule a beat which cast only 60 Democratic votes had as large a representation as Opelika which cast 500 Democratic votes. Public meetings were held and some plain talking was done in Lee; and the result is the committee has acceded to the popular wish and there is once more harmony in old Lee.

Months ago the editor of this paper, in a speech at Piedmont, predicted that the Conference of Feb. 22nd, would declare for independent action and that Allianced men of Calhoun would be called on to decide whether or not they would leave the Democratic party. Mr. Longshore, that great lover of the people, treated this declaration lightly, but the people can now see who was right. Of course the Democrats in the Alliance in this county will not go into any third party; but the fact will remain that the sub-treasury not was spread to catch recruits for a third party, and for this reason was urged vehemently upon the people by men who, knowing they could never be much in the Democratic party, hoped to profit by the formation of a new one. When these men see the honest farmers of the country cannot be taken out of the Democratic party, they will quietly subside and be heard of no more for a long time. Because certain parts of the Ocala platform were designed and calculated to lead good men out of the Democratic party, this paper opposed them—not because it was opposed to the farmers, but because it was regarded of them.

Among the planks of the platform adopted by the St. Louis Conference is one to pay the Federal soldiers the difference between gold and greenbacks, during the war when they received their pay in greenbacks. This would take hundreds of millions of dollars and is a scheme to rob the South for the benefit of the North. The South already pays five millions a year in the shape of pensions to Federal soldiers for which she gets nothing back. How will the Southern Allianced men relish the idea of being further taxed to further enrich that already rich section of the Union?

The committee of the Knights of Labor formulated what they would want in the platform of the new party. It consisted almost wholly of Henry George's single tax idea—that is that land should bear all the taxes. These men believe that land should be as free for all as air or water, and hence would tax out or confiscate by taxation ownership in land as now enjoyed by the farmers. The farmers on the contrary not only claim the right to own land, but in the land loan bill, predicate on that right the special privilege of borrowing money from the Government at cheaper rate than anybody else can get it. Here is a difference. The Knights of Labor say to the farmers "If this new party movement prevails, we propose to lay no tax upon the banker, the merchant, the distiller, the tobacco manufacturer, the owner of houses or the railroads or the telephone lines, but all the taxes to support the town, county, State, Federal Governments shall come out of your land. We will tax your land so high that you will be glad to give away all but the few acres you can cultivate with your own hands." The Ocala platform farmers say, "If this new party movement prevails, or if we can impose our platform on the Democratic party and thus make a new party out of that, we shall claim the special privilege of not only owning all the land we can get, but the right to borrow money on it from the Government at a cheaper rate than the commercial world has fixed the price of money at. We will go further and claim the right to borrow more money on the product of that land, so as to be able to corner the crops and make you workmen, who do not cultivate the land, pay more than the natural price for what you eat." How can these two elements continue long in harmonious political partnership.

SEVENTH CIRCUIT.

Chairman's Call for a Meeting of the Executive Committee.

The members of the Democratic Executive Committee of the Seventh Judicial Circuit, composed of the counties of Clay, Calhoun, Cleburne, Shelby, St. Clair and Talladega, are requested to meet in the city of Talladega on Monday, February 25, 1902, at 1 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of selecting the time and place for holding the convention for said circuit and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the committee.

T. S. PLOWMAN, Chairman.

The Third Party.

Atlanta Journal.

At the recent Third party rally at Douglasville I had a lengthy conversation with Colonel C. C. Post, who appears to be the prime agitator in the movement. A bit of history about the third party will tend to show what manner of a political leader he is.

I give it as he himself told me: "I was first a republican," he explained, "and voted with that party for one or two years, if I remember aright. I cast my first vote for a republican, and I think I voted with the republicans in local elections after that once or twice. I then became an independent ticket voter ever since. I was for a long time a greenbacker. I am now interesting myself in breaking off the allegiance which the producing class of Americans bear to the old parties."

The platform he presents includes the sub-treasury bill, together with the other demands of the Ocala convention of Allianced men.

Mr. Post is a dissembler, but an open, candid, earnest one, and admits it with a frankness that almost gives his position a semblance of fairness, and in a measure excuses it.

Depressed Prices.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The Senate Committee on Agriculture today considered the resolution of Senator George relative to the appointment of a committee to inquire into the cause of the low price of cotton and the depressed condition of agriculture in the cotton raising States and agreed to report back to the Senate an amendment in the nature of a substitute authorizing the committee to make a general investigation for the purpose of ascertaining the present condition of agriculture in the United States, the present prices of agricultural products, and if the prices are depressed, the causes of such depression and remedies therefor.

The line marked out by the Committee is to appoint a sub-committee to investigate the condition of agriculture in the grain and meat producing States and Territories, the aim being to cover the whole subject of agriculture with a view of determining what legislation, if any, is necessary for the relief of the farmers of the country. The resolution will be reported to the Senate Monday.

THE CONFERENCE.

THE THIRD PARTY PEOPLE GET DOWN TO WORK—POLK'S AND DONNELLY'S TALKS.

MR. LIVINGSTON is left out in the cold—Politics Made Vice-Presidents—Against Constitution Polk Made Permanent Chairman—The Committee Appointed.

DECLARES FOR A THIRD PARTY.

St. Louis, Feb. 23.—The first day's session of the conference of producers' organizations, leaves no doubt that the body will declare for independent political action.

Every reference to the subject was greeted by the wildest enthusiasm, and the speakers referred in a contemptuous tone to those who hoped to get relief from the Democratic party. Polk is square out for independent action, and says there are not enough people in the United States to prevent this body from declaring itself. Powderly, who has been wary and cautious heretofore, now comes out for the independent action, and says the Knights of Labor will go with the farmers to the end of the furrow. General Weaver and Ignatius Donnelly were among the first to go in to the people's party, and this is a day of triumph for them. Jerry Simpson is happy, too, and the western delegates are boiling with enthusiasm.

The two most conspicuous figures in the day's proceedings, were President Polk of the alliance and Ignatius Donnelly; and their speeches before the body were highly sensational, as well as decidedly pointed. The report of the credential committee showed that there were 246 delegates from the Farmers Alliance, 53 from the Farmers' Alliance Mutual Benefit association, 82 from the Knights of Labor, 97 from the National Farmers' Alliance, 25 from the Citizens' Alliance, 97 from the National Citizens' Alliance, 27 from the Patrons of Industry, and 22 from the Patrons of Husbandry.

On motion of Ignatius Donnelly, a recess of 20 minutes was taken to select a committee on platform, to consist of one from each state and three from each organization represented. A temperance plank will be in the platform, as Miss Frances E. Willard, Lady Somerset, Miss Miss Hoffman and Mrs. F. H. Ingalls, of the W. C. T. U., were admitted as delegates. Miss Frances E. Willard and Ben Terrell were elected vice-presidents of the conference. Miss Willard was brought forward and spoke for woman suffrage, saying she knew no sect in religion, no section in politics, and no sex in citizenship.

Warwick, of Virginia, a very black man, was nominated as assistant secretary of the conference, John W. Hayes having been elected secretary. Mr. Gilmore, of the Georgia Farmers' Alliance, moved to make the brother's election unanimous. We can stand him down in Georgia.

"I want to say that Alabama won't consent to its being made unanimous," said S. M. Adams, at which cries of "shame," "shame," and hisses of derision filled the hall.

The motion was put and Warwick was elected, the Alabamian's loud "no" being the only one heard in the meeting.

In the midst of great confusion on account of many strangers being on the floor, and on account of Chairman Cannon being badly rattled, Colonel L. L. Polk was nominated for permanent chairman.

The credentials committee divided the delegation from Georgia and gave seats to Post, Ellington and Branch, third party men. At this there was a protest from Moses, Livingston and others named as delegates by the Georgia Alliance Executive Committee. This debate precipitated a strong scene. Post had declared that at the time of the August convention nine-tenths of the Allianced men of Georgia were in favor of independent action, and Colonel Livingston and Mr. Moses had admitted as much, but urged the postponement of a resolution that effect until the people should act. He then charged that the purpose of these gentlemen was to deliver the alliance, bound hand and foot, into the hands of the democratic party.

At this, there was a great uproar, and the great assembly lashed itself into fury like the sea in a storm. Mr. J. Branch, at the top of his shrill voice, made the charge that Livingston and Moses were here to throttle the voice of the masses of Georgia.

It was a trying time for Moses when he rose to reply. He was greeted with ominous sounds of displeasure, and might not have been heard but for General Weaver's manly appeal for fair play.

"These other brethren have had their inning. Now give Brother Moses a chance," he said.

Mr. Moses mounted a chair and said in a voice that rang out with defiance: "Mr. Chairman—If we are to understand that the two gentlemen who are seated to fill vacancies come to vote in the convention under the same instructions as the gentlemen who were appointed by the state alliance of Georgia, then we have nothing more to say. If in good faith they come here to fill vacancies, I, for one, have nothing to say. (Confusion.) I will not proceed if free speech is not in vogue. (Go on.)" At this there were cries of "Sit down, sit down!" and the confusion became so great that the speaker had to suspend.

A negro delegate gained the floor under pretense of making a point of order, and protested against the disturbance. The confusion continued, and Mr. Moses exclaimed in a voice that could be heard above the din: "If you don't want to hear me, take me off my feet!"

This caught the crowd and they listened to him as he continued his superb defiance in these words:

"You know that Georgia is an alliance state. She has more alliance members in the national legislature than any other state. (Laughter.) You come here to find that the sovereign state of Georgia has not enough delegates to represent her in your convention."

"I am a Democrat. I am not going to deceive you western men. Here is the third party in Georgia. God knows I am not the first man to bring up the political question."

"Is it a crime to be a democrat? Then hang me, if you want to, but I am an alliance man, too."

At this brave utterance the convention gasped its teeth and drowned the speaker's voice with groans and jeers.

St. Louis, Feb. 24.—The conference adopted a platform declaring that neither of the old parties intended to accomplish reform and that the necessity for a new party existed. Subsequently the Convention resolved itself into a mass meeting and on motion of C. W. Macune appointed a committee to confer with the People's Party National Committee for the purpose of fixing upon a time and place for a National Convention to nominate a Presidential ticket.

C. W. Macune, L. L. Polk, J. B. Willets, Ben Terrell and others were appointed on this Committee. The committee subsequently met and appointed the Fourth day of July as the date for the National Convention, the place to be hereafter chosen by a committee of ten.

The Knights of Labor agreed not to insist on putting into the platform their single tax theory, as the farmers would not stand it.

The platform denounces both the old parties; declares for issue of money direct to the people by the government on the Ocala plan to extent of fifty dollars per capita; for free coinage of silver; for a graduated income tax; for tariff reduction; for postal savings banks; for government reclamation of lands held by aliens and by railroads in excess of actual use; for absolute government ownership of all railroad, telegraph and telephone lines; and lastly the following: "We demand that the Government issue legal tender notes and pay the Union soldier the difference between the price of the depreciated money in which he was paid and gold." This would be near a billion dollars. Of this Southern farmers would have to pay over three hundred million dollars—more than one entire cotton crop—and get nothing back for it, while their own Confederate veterans are uncared for.

Increasing Success.

The following article from the Montgomery Daily Advertiser of January 21st, is of interest to every business man, and in fact to everybody, who has printing done in the state:

"One of the youngest, and at the same time, perhaps, one of the most prosperous firms, in Montgomery is the Alabama Printing Company, now occupying the main offices of the second floor and the entire third floor of the Winter building, on the corner of Court Square and Dexter avenue. This business was established about three years ago by Rev. C. W. Hare and Mr. J. C. Pope, of Selma, Ala. The business grew rapidly and these young men have now found themselves being rewarded not only in the good opinions of others, but in a large patronage that their machinery and quarters were insufficient to meet the demands for printing. They bought a gas engine, new presses, more type, etc., and moved to more commodious quarters. Since moving there they have been compelled to add to their already large plant some handsome machinery and equipments for their work. The work was soon too heavy for only two men to manage in all of its departments and they found a congenial partner in Professor J. M. Dewberry, who was for three years principal of the Capitol Hill school in this city. Professor Dewberry joined the firm the first day of last April, and together with his experienced and energetic partners has continued to push the business on to greater success. Last fall marked a new era in their history. Having equipped a complete book manufacturing department under the supervision of Mr. J. J. Yokum, of Selma, they appealed to business men for patronage in that line. It is needless to say that they got it. Montgomery business men and others now find that they can have just as fine printing and book making done in Montgomery as can be done in the United States. County officials no longer have to send their work away from Alabama to have it done right. This business gives employment to more than twenty persons, all of whom receive good salaries and receive them at the end of every week. Such an enterprise has hearty and enthusiastic support that it receives not only from Montgomery, but from every section of Alabama. The books of the Southern Express Company show that this firm ships largely to every part of this state. This success is due to close attention to business and wisdom in its management. The prospects are that they will continue to prosper and to grow."

Stirring Resolutions.

Anulston Hot Bed.

At the first meeting of the Jones Club in Anulston, the following strong resolutions were presented by the committee and unanimously adopted:

1. Resolved, That recognizing the force and power of organized effort in accomplishing results and being deeply interested in the welfare of the Democratic party in Alabama, we form the club, that thereby we may then better advance the interests of true Democracy, promulgate its principles, and urge their sufficiency to meet the ever varying needs of the citizens and to accomplish the end of good government. That the preservation of the party, solid and undisrupted and the promotion of its welfare, is infinitely above the gratification of the aspirations of any one man. That the party can only be preserved and its welfare promoted by its selection as candidates for office men thoroughly in accord with its principles and who are possessed of the ability and courage to faithfully adhere to them.

2. Resolved, That firm adherence to Democratic principles, integrity of character and honesty in the administration of public trust should all be indispensable requirements to candidacy for Democratic office, and that all of these requirements we find in Thomas G. Jones.

3. Resolved, That we hereby endorse the administration of Thomas G. Jones, Governor of Alabama, as being able, conservative and wise; that in him we recognize a fearless and intrepid champion of Democracy, who has proven himself worthy to be honored by his party, and entrusted with its leadership, and into whose keeping we can safely consign the ark of the Democratic covenant.

That we particularly admire the ability and courage with which he is now conducting the contest for his re-nomination, and the judgment and propriety he is displaying throughout this heated and personal campaign, in remaining ever mindful of the dignity of the office he represents. That in the campaign he is making we recognize an earnest and determined effort on the part of Thos. G. Jones for the preservation of the party, the advancement of its interests and the achievement of triumphs. That he has displayed a faithfulness and devotion to its good, which is far above all consideration for his personal preferment.

4th. Resolved, That it is a precedent of the Democratic party founded upon reason and expediency to accord to the faithful and honorable incumbent of the office of Governor a second term; a precedent which it is dangerous and unwise to depart from, and peculiarly so when the welfare of the party, the good of the State and the ability of the man all imperatively demand that it should be adhered to.

5th. Resolved, That it is the purpose of this club throughout the present campaign to use its best and most strenuous efforts for the re-nomination of Governor Thos. G. Jones and to give to him its heartiest support.

6. Resolved, That we cordially invite all true Democrats throughout Calhoun County to become members of this club and to co-operate with us in the work we have undertaken.

The following card appears in the Sheffield Enterprise with the request that it be generally copied, as its publication may succeed in bringing father and daughter together: I am trying to find my father. I am told that his name is James F. Bailey. I have no recollection of him, nor do I remember that I ever looked upon the face of a relative. My mother died fifteen years ago in Boone county. Shortly after my mother's death I was adopted by a neighbor named Morgan. When I was eight years old we moved to Nebraska, and at this time father lost track of me. I understand he endeavored to find me, but was basely led by an interested party to believe that I had died. I have only recently learned that the Morgans are not my parents. They are nothing to me. I am nothing to them. The thought makes me homesick, sad and lonely. I believe that my father is living somewhere in this wide world, and if he is I mean to find him. You can assist me if you will, but I can offer no reward at present save my gratitude and blessings. If you are unable to give me any information regarding father, please help me to publish this notice and oblige, sincerely yours, REETA BAILEY.

Ozark Star.—The Talladega county Alliance has demanded of Capt. Kolb that he give a satisfactory explanation of the Guise cotton transaction over his own signature. They further demand of him, that if the Guise matter be false as he says it is, that he immediately institute legal proceedings against Guise for damage to character. Until he does the things above enumerated the Talladega Alliance respectfully withhold their support from him.

AN AGREEMENT REACHED.

And the McEnery and Foster Faction Will Submit to a Primary.

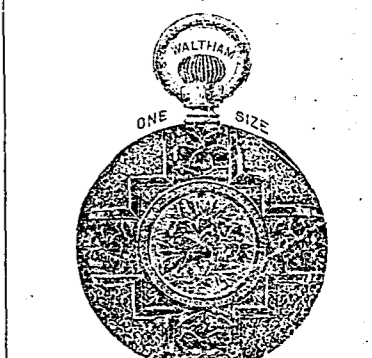

NEW ORLEANS, February 21.—The compromise proposition submitted to the two democratic central committees by the joint conference committee has been ratified by both sides.

The McEnery committee ratified the agreement Saturday night. The Fosterites were in session all day yesterday, and there was considerable opposition to the measures offered, as it was considered detrimental to the success of the faction. Senators White and Gibson addressed the body during the day, and are supposed to have urged harmony. The committee, by unanimous vote last night decided to accept the agreement, and the McEneryites are jubilant in consequence. The principal point of agreement is the submission of the McEnery and Foster tickets to the primaries, the winning ticket to be the regular democratic ticket at the general election, the other to be withdrawn. The conference committees are in session arranging details of primaries and other matters in connection with the agreement.

Mrs. Leslie's Mr. Wilde.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—There is considerable gossip afloat about Mrs. Frank Leslie, who has retaken that name, because, as she asserts, her latest husband, Wm. Wilde, has taken no steps to make a name for himself in this country in any way adequate to that which she has established by her exertions, although she has given him every facility which a literary man could desire. The Press Club delegates to the International League of clubs, which met recently in San Francisco, told a great many stories of the eccentricities of Mr. Wilde and his wife, including such incidents as their going to receptions in separate carriages at different hours, and each going home without the other's company. Mr. Wilde has an apartment at the Lotus Club, but drives out with Mrs. Leslie every afternoon and goes with her to receptions, theaters and other evening entertainments, but he will insist on going to bed at 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning and breakfasting at 12 o'clock, and he can do so at the Lotus Club without disturbing Mr. Leslie's usual routine.

The two cars containing the Texas exhibit of resources was on exhibition at the depot here Monday and a large number of people visited them.

Snapp's new lightning photograph process is certainly a success. The entire faculty of the Normal College stood in front of the apparatus Thursday night before attending church.

Freight is being received in Jacksonville over the Tredegar Mineral. Since this road has been built into Jacksonville a fair article of grate coal is now delivered here at three dollars and eighty cents a ton.

Burglars entered the store of Mr. R. L. Vausand Thursday night and stole a lot of clothing. They set the house on fire, but it was discovered before the flames had made much headway.

Our photographer, Mr. Snapp, is still to be found in his studio above Crook's drug store. He is doing fine work and lots of it. He intends remaining with us the coming week. Go and have that baby photographed and you too.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

NANCES CREEK VALLEY.

A Prosperous and Happy People.

CHOCOLOCO, ALA., Feb. 22.

Mr. C. Colfield and myself organized a local board of The Farmers and Mechanics Saving and Loan Association in Cotaquilla and Nances Creek Valleys. The best farmers in the valley took stock with us. The following are the officers of the Local Board:

J. T. Chambers, President; J. H. King, Vice-President; E. P. Penny, Secretary; Samuel Morgan Treasurer.

Directors: T. H. Amett, Dave Jennings, P. C. Patterson, John Hollingsworth, R. H. Dowdle, R. A. Love and J. T. Chambers. The board is composed of the best farmers in the county. We had the pleasure of spending the night with Mr. Chambers and Penny, who entertained us as only the best farmers can. Also of taking dinner with Messrs. Love and Dave Jennings, who deserve great credit for they both started this life, when first married, without much and now they have good homes and paid for. We find the farmers of these beautiful valleys all doing well, have plenty of corn and meat, and they live at home. Their homes are neat and their farms well worked and they are making money and doing well, and are not bothering themselves about politics (only Commissioners) and there is only 3 or 4 candidates in these valleys and we regret we cannot vote for all of them for they all would make good commissioners. If every valley in the county would take pattern after this valley and raise their own supplies we would soon have a prosperous and happy people.

GONE HOME TO REST.

In Memory of Sammie.

Who died at the residence of his parents, Washington and Frances Dickie on the 16th day of January 1892, aged 19 years 10 months and 20 days. Sammie selected the song, "Hark from the tomb," to be sung over him and selected his own minister to attend his funeral services, who was Mr. Harden. He was an obedient child, affectionate brother and kind uncle; and professed faith in Christ, lived in peace and died in peace on the 28th night of December. He called us all to his bedside to give us his sweet words: "I am ready to meet God; I am going home to rest," and as would reach his little white hands to his relatives, friends and young men associates and take them by their hands and say, "I am going home to rest I want you to meet me in heaven will you meet me there?" When the words came from their lips - "Sam I will try." He would reply: "I don't want that; I want yes or no, so I will know. You may not all keep the promise that you have made me, but I will know by and by who kept them." Yes, by and by, dear Sammie will know us as we cross over the river of death one by one and join the hands with him on the banks of sweet deliverance, where there will be no more parting and no more farewell tears are shed. As our dear mother laid her head upon his and said "how many prayers have I uttered for my dear child," and then fainting as she was carried away from his bed, he turned his sweet face and watched after her and said: "Ma, don't do that way, give me up easy, for I am going home to rest." He bore his suffering and never murmured, and why was it? Because his Savior was with him. He said God knew best and death is no sting when Jesus was there. When his body would be racked with pain, his sweet voice would utter, "I can't stay here much longer; but I have got better home than this - farewell to this world; when I leave here, I am going to a world where trouble never comes." He would whisper, "lay me down, I can't rest in this world, but I can in the other one." His last words were to his two brothers on earth. He said, "lay me down, I can rest better." A few minutes after they laid him down he joined hands with that angel brother of one that crossed the chilly waters of death 13 years before him. Our dear brother is gone. He has departed this life, but he is not gone forever. Only one thought can soothe our grief.

Since we from him must sadly sever, One only hope can yield relief, Our parting may not be forever.

Oh, brother, dear brother, so pure, so sweet, so fair, the crown of sovereign beauty, henceforth we bid thee wear; not other lovely rival of all thy regal race shall win our hearts devotion and claim thy peerless place; for he of whom thou only couldst worthily rival be in gentle grace and sweetness, he whom the grave has taken to its unruled rest, he praised thee and preferred thee and ever loved thee best. When death had taken all that it could of him and heaven his soul to be an angel there from off thy stem, fair flower, we plucked a tiny spray and placed it on his bosom upon his burial day; and thus two lilies broken by death's unsparring hand they journey graveyard into the silent land, one with the dust to mingle in darkness and decay, one to live on and blossom in heaven's eternal day. The love he bore thee living by death thus glorified, unchanged forever, shall in our hearts abide; therefore the crown of beauty henceforth we bid thee wear, dear brother, so pure, so sweet, so fair. He has passed this vale of tears, his suffering and trials are over, he will spend the remaining years with loved ones, to part no more. 'Twas the 16th when the merciful and just God blighted our joys and dimmed our eyes, on the 18th we laid him beneath the sod to sleep. It was a sad and mournful day God claimed him for his own and said he could no longer stay; but we may weep and mourn, in a bier drawn by angels dear Sammie was borne away to that celestial city where strangers are unknown and sweet harps play.

Oh sad and stricken is the mother and father sorrowing, but grieve not brothers and sisters for one who is so happy and blest; our departed loving and loved one, remember was willing to die. He has not left us forever but gone to his home in the sky. In our dreams may we look to that heavenly land, a mansion prepared for us as it was for him, in that home above, and we will see the fair form of our darling brother with beautiful hands that are beckoning us come. Oh why was he taken so early in life? It has saddened our home and our hearts seem river; just in the prime of manhood's night; but he budded on earth to blossom in heaven.

But, alas, ere long we all have got to cross that chilly river of death prepared or unprepared, eyelids closed in death. And as his footsteps linger on the verge of death's cold stream, marble hands across his breast where the lonely boughs wave in silence, we have laid him down to rest. When he crossed the chilly waters he felt the cold stream that rolled the heavens and earth between, though he has only gone on before, may we rest on hopes to meet him on the golden shore. When he crossed the chilly river of death low he bowed and kissed the roll, though he is gone to rest forever in the city of his God.

Written by his two sad-hearted sisters who mourn his absence.

MATTIE AND TELLIE.

The recently elected United States Senator of Georgia, General John B. Gordon, says:

Mr. A. K. Hawkes - Dear Sir: The parting glass you furnished me some time since give excellent satisfaction. I have tested them by use, and must say they are unequalled in clearness and brilliancy by any that I have ever worn.

Respectfully,
